Well the Thursday evening weather jinx finally came good. After a really wet day the rain cleared not long before the event started. The course was slightly wet at the start finish end but the winds were light and the air was warm. Consequently we had the best evening of the year so far with several PBs, Chris Martin did a storming ride, despite complaining of aches and pains from running a duathlon the night before. Nicola Morgan improved her time by a massive two and a half minutes.

Traffic: Low.

Thanks to marshals & timekeepers.

Derek Todd, Christine Vince and David Notley.
